Dear Comics Values Monthly Reader.

The G. I. Joe phenomenon has been a boon to comics in all aspects. It has brought a new generation of young collectors into the field. Sweeping across America the new rise in patriotism has fanned this flame over the last five years. Adults and children alike are caught in this patriotic feeling. This mood permiates our society. Joe has certainly benefitted from this. Comic stores that provide the special needs of these whims have found unbelievable growth. An example of this is Collector's Choice in Cleveland, Tennessee. Their experience has been to cater to these customers, and growth has been excellent. Stores in more populous areas near by that have not adhered to this policy have just not experienced this special growth.

Not just the new issues sell, but this young collector wants to know the origin of Snake Eyes, how the Cobra Commander is captured and how he escapes, and what happens in the panic at the North Pole. Back issue sales are reported superb. Not just first printings, but second printings and even third printings fly off the shelves. These collectors want all the earlier stories and don't care if they are first, second, or third printings. The early first printings always have the purist, but they are few and far between. But than so are the early first printings.

Many dealers ask how this can be a real boon to the comic industry in general. I believe that if a dealer has spent time with each enthusiast and encourages other good comic titles, a genuine new comic collector can be born. This dealer will also create a seven to eight year customer who will remain until high school graduation or until other interests engulf him.

Now we have the reprint controversy with Marvel and certain dealers over the three pack G. I. Joe #2, 26, & 27. I do hope that all will be settled amicably. But in any event, the ultimate winner will be the collector.

Yours truly,

Alex G. Malloy

FUTURE PICKS

DATE LINE MAY 1986

• Lords of the Ultra Realm in many areas across the country is experiencing rising values.

• RONIN, Frank Miller's creation is starting to move up. When it first came out the cover price was to high for conditions of the market to sustain it. This along with extensive over ordering by dealers helped to stifle it then. Now many new Miller enthusiasts have found Ronin and they love it.

• G I Joe # 50 introduction to Special Missions is selling like hot cakes. One dealer reported that his very large order sold out immediatly in the first two hours.

• The Black and White Comics were once a non-entity in direct sales. Now as we all know they have reached new heights. Many new creative and quality titles are out there now along with some clever parodies.....This summer will see a flood of black and whites. Preliminary orders indicate some titles just might be great. The question is how do you ride the crest of the floodtide and not get drowned.

•Hooky, the new graphic novel of Spiderman by Bernie Wrightson is very hot. The question is will its upward movement potential be smothered by reprints as is the norm in graphic novels.

The term Comic toy here relates to toys issued that are comic related. Toys issued of living persons are not included, while radio inspired comic toys are included.

TV and Movie toys are included only when they were originally comic in nature.
